Jacksonville Republican.

JACKSONVILLE, ALA.

November 28, 1863.

Change of Terms.

From first day of January next.
In consequence of the continually increasing scarcity and high price of paper, and other articles, we are compelled reluctantly to increase our terms of subscription and advertising, to two dollars per year, for six months, and two dollars per square, for advertising, one dollar for each continuation.

Ours, we believe, was the last paper out of the cities, to reduce to a half sheet, and we have held out at the old rates, longer than any paper in the State that we know of. This being the case, we hope none will complain; more especially as it is a free thing to take a paper or let it alone.

From and after the first day of January next, 1864, we will not take subscribers for a longer period than six months, and at two dollars for that time, invariably in advance.

We deem it unnecessary to offer any apology, or give any other reason for this change, than to remind the reader that at the increased rates, six months subscription can be paid with two pounds of pork, and perhaps less than one peck of wheat.

We give this early notice, that all interested may be prepared for the change, and comply punctually with the terms, if they wish their papers continued.

Existing contracts, where persons have paid for any length of time in advance, will be faithfully complied with; and all old subscriptions will be settled at the old rates, up to first of January, 1864.

THE LATE BATTLE.

From various sources we gather the following particulars of the second battle of Chickamauga or Lookout Mountain as it may probably be called.

ATLANTA, Nov. 27.
We lost many prisoners, variously estimated at 5,000 or upwards. All our dead and severely wounded are in the enemy's hands.

In the attack on Lookout the enemy's loss was incomparably greater than ours. They drove us back by sheer force of numbers.

The Confederacy learns from General officers just down that light skirmishing began on Saturday, intensifying on Sunday and on Monday becoming continuous along the whole line. At daylight on Tuesday the battle began, the enemy charging impetuously on Lookout 40,000 strong at the same time occupying the attention of our right wing at the foot of Missionary Ridge. The onset at first was not impetuous but increased in vigor and violence as the day advanced. Hill's corps, commanded by Breckenridge, met the shock with unflinching courage.

Late in the afternoon the enemy's increased repeated attacks made an impression on our lines, and at 4 o'clock P. M. the left centre gave way, the enemy pouring through the valley like a flood. Our forces on Lookout, seeing themselves cut off, got confused and retreated in disorder.

During the night, the enemy not pursuing, the remnant of our left was with drawn to Missionary Ridge where our troops are massed for to-morrow's battle.

Some of our commands on the left were captured.

On Wednesday before sunrise, the enemy advanced their whole force with order upon our works at the foot of Missionary Ridge. Hardee, commanding, met the attack with wonderful vigor and success. Charge after charge was repulsed. Five thousand dead lay in front of our works. Our right stood firm. The battle ceased at dark.

On Wednesday, after night fall, the enemy improved their position on Lookout, posting batteries to inflame our position on Missionary Ridge, necessitating an evacuation.

Our line fell back eastward of Missionary Ridge behind Chickamauga, where it now stands.

The battle was not renewed on Thursday.

Our loss in killed and wounded is not more than one thousand, the enemy's at least twenty thousand. Our loss in prisoners is not known. We have six hundred prisoners.

Grant commanded in person. Gen. Bragg's headquarters are now at Ringgold.

Some accounts say we took as many men on the right as we lost on the respondent of the Atlanta Inhis forces on our right, which were not by the gallant Hardee, and the storm of battle became furious, the rars of artillery and musketry being incessant. Sherman's corps on the right was four times repulsed with frightful loss, and at last driven over the Tennessee at the mouth of the Chickamauga. Gen. Cleburne, on our right, nobly held his ground and dealt terrible destruction in the enemy's ranks.

Gen. Bragg and Breckenridge rode up and down our lines, encouraging the troops by their example, in face of the terrible fire of the enemy, and urging them to make a stand. But such was the demoralization of Stevensons division that they could not be induced to rally.

The Marietta Confederate says: The extravagant statements of the defeat and demoralization of our troops is much exaggerated. It is positively denied that any body of our troops threw away their arms and fled precipitately, though there may have been, as in most battles, individual instances of such conduct. Our loss was comparatively slight.

The Rome Courier of Tuesday last Dec. 1st says: "The Cloud with the Silver Lining." We have well-authenticated reports of the capture of Burnside and his entire command, by Longstreet. No particulars received yet.

We also learn that the advance forces of the enemy had been driven back beyond Ringgold, with considerable loss. So that the dark cloud of last week seems, at present, to have a silver lining.

Another Battle in Virginia.

By dates from Richmond of 30 Dec. we obtain the following:

Meades army crossed the Rapidan on Thursday afternoon and Friday morning at the lower fords, German and Ely's.

After throwing up entrenchments they moved in the direction of Orange Court-house. On Friday forenoon Johnson's division and Ewell's corps, engaged two corps of the enemy, 18 miles below Orange Court-house, 12 miles from Chancellorsville. The fight lasted until night, but did not become general till 3 P. M., when the enemy were slowly driven back to their entrenchments.

Little or no artillery was used on either side.

Our loss in killed and wounded was four or five hundred.

We have seen no report of casualties in the late battle near Chattanooga, except from the 28th Regiment, which lost 130 in killed wounded and missing. We may be enabled in our next, to give the list of those from this and adjoining counties.

We may also, in our next, be enabled to publish the captions of the public acts passed at the present session of the Legislature.

The latest news from the battles near Chattanooga and Ringgold, is decidedly more favorable. Private letters have been received in this place, confirming the capture of Burnside at Knoxville—the repulse of the Yankees near Ringgold, and the rejoining of Bragg's army by Wheeler's immense Cavalry force, with probable aid from Gen. Longstreet.

The first victory at Chickamauga, being due to the valor and impetuosity of the officers and men, seems not to have brought much credit to Gen. Bragg; and the defeat in the second having been occasioned by a panic in a part of the army, which no measure of valor or military genius could prevent or remedy, is not likely to injure him. We incline to the opinion that the close of the present military operations will bring to Gen. Bragg more enduring fame than all his previous career.

The Rogersville Affair.

extract from a letter from Major E. T. Clark, commanding the 16th Georgia Battalion of Partisan Rangers, under date November 10, 1863:

LONG ISLAND KINGSPORT, TENN., November 10, 1863.

"On last Thursday we started on a raid upon Rogersville. We surprised the enemy, captured 800 prisoners, 4 pieces of artillery and wagons, and military stores to a large amount. We were repaid for our Blountville defeat, as we run the enemy to our hearts content.

From the spoils of victory I armed my battalion with Buford & Austrian rifles.

We returned to our headquarters with but the loss of one man. Besides our battalion we had Williams' brigade and Jones' brigade, but only about a thousand men engaged. The enemy had an Illinois regiment and the 2d Tennessee with a battery of four pieces. It was a glorious affair."

Battle Lodge No. 227.
The com. to whom the deaths of L. T. Raper, Treas. and Saml. R. D. Camp, S. D. members of this Lodge were referred, beg leave to report.

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God the Dispenser of all things, in the dispensation of his providence, to remove from our midst our beloved Bro. L. T. Raper, of Co. F, 58th Regt. Ala. Vols. and Treas. of this Lodge who fell on the 20th Sept. in the battle of Chickamauga nobly and bravely contending for his country's rights and honor; and for the interest of unborn generations, therefore:

Resolved, that in the death of L. T. Raper the country has lost a faithful citizen and brave soldier; his company an amiable devoted and untiring officer; this lodge an excellent and highly estimated member; the church a faithful and worthy brother; and his family an unspeakable loss.

Res. 2d That while we unite in mourning the loss of our Brother and deeply sympathize with his bereaved family, we now submit to the dispensation of God's providence, saying "even so, Father, for it seems good in thy sight; and confidently, cherish the hope that the great Architect of the universe has called him from labor to that rest which is for the people living God."

Res. 3d That a copy of these Resolutions be forwarded by this Lodge to his family with assurance of our sympathy in their bereavement and affliction.

Res. 4th That these Resolutions be published in the Selma Reporter and Jacksonville Republican.

HARTWELL LODGE, No. 101.
Oxford, Ala. Nov. 26, A. D. 1863.
Whereas, it has pleased T. G. A. O. T. U. to remove from our midst our worthy brother P. E. MARRISON, who entered the army of the Confederate States on the 1st day of January, 1862, and died at Vicksburg, Miss. 20th July, 1863; and A. J. Buns, who entered the Confederate States army on the 22nd day of February, 1862, and was killed at Vicksburg, Miss. the 23d of May, 1863, in the 32d year of his age; therefore be it Resolved, That in the death of P. E. Marrison and A. J. Buns, this Lodge of T. G. A. O. T. U. has lost two of their most useful and worthy members; the community two active, good and intelligent citizens; and our country two noble, patriotic and brave soldiers.

Resolved, That P. E. Marrison and A. J. Buns were men worthy and esteemed in all the relations of life, and possessed that friendliness of manner, that not only made them agreeable companions, but loved and esteemed by all who knew them. We cannot but regard, that in their death the country has lost two men of great usefulness.

Resolved, That as Masons, they were true and faithful to their obligations—as friends they were warm and generous, and as husbands and fathers, tender, devoted and affectionate.

Resolved, That we tender our most heartfelt sympathy and condolence to the families of the deceased, but refer them for more lasting consolation to Him—

Who drieth the mourner's tear,
Who holds the bleeding heart,
Who bids us hope and never fear,
And takes the orphan's part.

Resolved, That the members of this Lodge wear the usual badge of mourning for 30 days, and the Lodge be clothed in the same for 60 days.

Resolved, That to each of the families of the deceased, a copy of the above Preamble & Resolutions be sent, and also one for publication to the Jacksonville Republican.

Approved in open Lodge.

MASONIC LODGE, Called communication Nov. 20, A. D. 1863.
Lodge No. 236, the committee to whom the death of L. W. K. BISHAZO was referred made the following report, which was unanimously concurred in

Whereas, it hath pleased the All-wise Ruler of the Universe, in his providence, to remove from our midst our esteemed and worthy brother, W. K. BISHAZO, 1st Lt. Co. F, 19th Ala. Reg. whose amiable and kind disposition, and upright and manly conduct endeared him to all who esteemed those virtues; but more especially to us, who profess to live according to the rules of justice to all mankind; and whereas, L. hath pleased the All-wise Ruler of the Universe, in his providence, in the violent death of our worthy brother, that his life is in his hands, and no mortal can destroy it. Let us therefore humble ourselves before the Supreme Ruler, and acknowledge with humility, that we do not, at all times live according to the Divine injunction—"Love ye also truly."

Resolved 1st, That in the death of our worthy brother W. K. Bishazo, society has lost a useful and esteemed member, the country a good citizen, the army an efficient officer, and his Lodge a worthy member.

Resolved 2d, That while we deeply mourn his loss, we bow submissively to the dispensations of Divine Providence, and earnestly hope he has been called from labor to rest in the "Grand Lodge" above.

Resolved 3d, That the name of our deceased brother be inscribed on a blank page of the minutes of our Lodge; and a copy of these resolutions be sent by this Lodge to his parents, with the assurance of our unfeigned sympathies in their sad bereavement and affliction.

Resolved 4th, That the members of this Lodge wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days, and a copy of these resolutions be published in the Jacksonville Republican.

Witness, A. Woods, Judge of Probate, at office this 28th day of October, 1863.
A. WOODS, Judge of Probate.
Dec 31.

Death of typhoid fever, on the 31st of Oct. 1863, ANN ELIZA MALLORY, daughter of Mrs. E. J. Mallory, of Calhoun co. Ala.
How very strange to us poor mortals are the workings of Providence! That one so lovely, and one who could make home so happy should be taken away from us so soon, indeed seems strange. But 'tis God who has called and we must not murmur—He does all things well.

Scarcely sixteen summers had passed over her youthful head, when the Angel of Death came and clasped the loved one in his cold, icy arms, and bore her away to realms of everlasting bliss. We feel that she has indeed gone to Heaven, and that she now forms one of the happy land of bright angels around the throne of God, singing praises to the Lamb. She told us so sweetly not to grieve for her, that she was going to heaven. Oh, those precious words! we would not take worlds for them. And would we recall our sweet little sister, back again to this sinful world, where all is trouble and sorrow? Ah no. We feel now that we can say, "Lord, thy will be done." Though we can't help but grieve for her sometimes, when we think we will never meet her loved form in our home circle, nor hear again her merry laugh or listen to her words of cheer. We have laid her away in the cold, cold ground; she passed away with the dying of the flowers and the falling of the leaves. Our sweet little Eliza was sick only ten days, and on the morning of the eleventh, as a day dawned on earth, she began her long eternal day in Heaven.

"Sister thou wast mild and lovely,
Gentle as the summer's breeze;
Pleasant as the air of evening,
When it floats among the trees.
Peaceful be thy silent slumber,
Peaceful in the grave so low;
Thou no more wilt join our number,
Thou no more our songs shalt know.
Dearest sister, thou hast left us,
Here thy loss we deeply feel;
But 'tis God that hath bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.
Yet again we hope to meet thee,
When the day of life is fled;
Then in Heaven with joy to greet thee,
Where no farewell tear is shed."
A SISTER.

Notice.
I am now at Middleton, Ala. my residence on business connected with the following commands now in North-western Virginia, from which I have just returned. As I have but a few days to remain at home, all persons having friends in the 5th Ala. Bat. and Cos. D and G, 10th Ala. ## Change of Terms.

From first day of January next. In consequence of the continually increasing scarcity and high price of paper, and other articles, we are compelled reluctantly to increase our terms of subscription and advertising, to two dollars for six months, and two dollars per square for advertising, one dollar for each continuation.

Ours, we believe, was the last paper out of the cities, to reduce to a half sheet, and we have held out at the old rates, longer than any paper in the State that we know of. This being the case, we hope none will complain; more especially as it is a free thing to take a paper or let it alone.

From and after the first day of January next, 1864, we will not take subscribers for a longer period than six months, and at two dollars for that time, invariably in advance.

We deem it unnecessary to offer any apology, or give any other reason for this change, than to remind the reader that at the increased rates, six months subscription can be paid with two pounds of pork, and perhaps less than one peck of wheat.

We give this early notice, that all interested may be prepared for the change, and comply punctually with the terms, if they wish their papers continued.

Existing contracts, where persons have paid for any length of time in advance, will be faithfully complied with; and all old subscriptions will be settled at the old rates, up to first of January, 1864.

Notice.

ALL County Claims of every description that have been registered and numbered on the back, are now payable. Holders of all such claims are hereby notified to come forward and receive their dues.

E. L. WOODWARD,
County Treasurer.

Blankets Wanted.

I will give in exchange twelve yards of good unbleached shirting for a good heavy Blanket or woollen coverlet, or a like proportion of the same material for articles of inferior value or carpeting, and $1.50 per pair, for either cotton or woollen socks.

The articles may be deposited with W. F. Bush, Jacksonville.

M. C. CALHOUN, Agent for A. C. M., Selma.

Notice to Beat Agents.

I have procured 15,000 bushels of Corn for the indigent soldiers' families—and in order to distribute it equitably, it is necessary that the agents of each beat be taken. The beat agents are therefore requested to visit each soldier's family, and ascertain the amount of corn that will be necessary for each family for 12 months, and report to me as early as possible, as many of the families are now without bread, and hence the necessity of prompt action. I have also on hand 85 sacks of Salt for said families—the beat agents will please come and receive it.

A. WOODS, Judge of Probate.

Last Appeal.

We did hope that the liberal proposition, made by Capt. Calhoun, to exchange Domestic for Blankets, connected with the simple announcement, that more than 10,000 of Gen. Bragg's army were exposed, unsheltered, & without blankets, would have been sufficient to draw forth a liberal response; but we are sorry to hear that such is not the fact. We do not feel like multiplying words and entreaties on such a subject, and will therefore merely ask a few questions. Do the people expect those who have gone out to defend their persons and property, their homes and their fire-ides, to bare their backs, half fed and half clad, to the "peltings of the pitiless winter storm," as well as the iron and leaden storm of battle from their enemies, when it is in their power to extend to them assistance and relief? And if they do expect it, do such a people deserve the blessings of protection and independence? Will they feel any better should their neglect assist the enemy in being able to rob them of the very comforts they ought to have sent to their poor suffering soldiers in the army, as well as every thing else of value?

We will not say that we do not blame, but we will say that we do not wonder at desertion. Perhaps our army could not if they would resist and repel the combined powers of the wintry elements and a ruthless invading foe. A Russian Winter conquered the invincible army of Napoleon, when the combined armies of the greatest Nations of the world had failed to do it.

Reflect on these things friends, and act quickly, lest your much needed assistance should come too late.

Send in your articles to Capt. Wm. F. Bush, who will take great pleasure in making the exchange.

Since our last Col. B. O. Ramey and his vigilant, and efficient squadron, have brought in another batch of deserters, some of whom had evaded all the efforts of the cavalry and conscript officers, since March last.

Col. Ramey certainly deserves the thanks of the community for efficiency and self-sacrificing exertions; and we are assured that he will receive the hearty co-operation of Col. R. W. Draper. Under their administration, we predict that Calhoun county will prove an unhealthy climate for deserters and outlaws.

ALL persons wishing to send any thing to their friends in the army of north-western Virginia, will please have it carefully packed in a suitable box, and distinctly marked, and left at Alexandria by the 25th inst., or where it is more convenient at Ft. Plains.

Counterfeit Money—Caution to the Public.

Times of war are always made the occasion for the perpetration of rascality in every conceivable form; and perhaps in no way are the masses more imposed upon, than in having spurious or counterfeit money palmed off on them. A case was tried before L. W. Cannon, Esq. of this place on last Saturday evening, which will aid the public, at least so far as the locality is concerned, in arresting the evil.

A man by the name of Smith from Cherokee county, offered to sell to some of our merchants, ten dollar bank bills on the Bank of HANOVER, S. C. dated 1824. These bills were pronounced counterfeits by experts, and the man Smith was arrested and brought before the magistrate mentioned. He introduced in his defence Col. Wm. Young, of Ludlow, who testified that he had provided Smith with the money to sell, at the rate of three for one of Confederate money, or to buy salt with them at the same rate—the Young having purchased them for one.

If Col. Young has been imposed upon by some unprincipled scoundrel, there is no reason why every body who is unskilled in detecting counterfeits, should be; and this caution is given to guard all such persons from injury. The bills are new—made in their appearance—and with the marks of the first folding upon them. They are signed by one Henry Shult. The severest penalty of the law should be inflicted upon any scoundrel who may pass, or attempt to pass any such bills, knowing them to be counterfeit.

Fernando Wood on the War.

Fernando Wood, of New York, attended an entertainment given by the "Peace Democrats" of Bergen county, New Jersey, on the 24th, and made a speech, which possesses the importance only of showing in advance what will be his course and that of those who confer with him in the Congress which meets at Washington next Monday.

The following were some of the boasts given on the occasion.

The State of Illinois.—The star of hope in the West.

The State of New Jersey.—The only spot of dry land in the deluge.

The County of Bergen.—The Banner County of Democracy, which has not such a nondescript as a war Democrat within its borders.

State Rights.—May they not be forgotten in delirious and bloody triumph of State wrongs.

The Abolition War for Disunion.—Let those who think it is right go to it, and those who think it is wrong stay at home.

The Only Possible Remedy for Secession and the Only Hope of the Union.—Peace, mutual concession and compromise.

It is response to a toast complimentary to himself, Mr. Wood spoke as follows:

What ever may be the secret or avowed grounds on which a prosecution of this war is urged, rest assured, my friends, it leads to a result that will engulf all alike in one common maelstrom of destruction. I care not whether it is prosecuted or not; the objects of men or of the Government are nothing in view of the fact that the effect, tendency and catastrophe will of necessity be fatally disastrous. It is folly to prate of motives, however high and ennobling they may ostensibly appear, when the results which accrue from those motives are destructive and debasing. It may be as well said that a man is justified in jumping from an eminence, a fall from which is certain to break his neck, because he did not design doing any injury to himself. Whatever his intentions may have been, he perishes in the act. So with this war. Whether we will or no, its continued prosecution is certain destruction. There is no such thing as bellum under the institutions upon which the Government of this country is founded. Suppose New York chose to secede, who dare attempt to prevent her. Virginia had the right as New York. War is disunion and disintegration. No man in his senses disputes this. Every man who favors it, directly or indirectly, favors the dissolution of the American Union—promotes the establishment of a centralized despotism, and advances the fortunes of the most desperate and unscrupulous knaves that ever cursed a country. The advocates of the war may well be classed as the "evil-disposed" and the "simple-minded."

The present delusions must subside. Like the French Revolution, the dreadful era of carnage and fanaticism must run its course and have its termination. All civil wars, founded on social or moral ideas have produced the same excruciating, been pregnant with the same popular out breaks, and culminated as this will, in the downfall and extinction of the men party which advocated them. Rely on this. History will repeat itself in this instance as it has in a thousand others—our nature has not been changed; men are now as to the days of Robespierre and Cromwell—bloody, treacherous, fanatical, selfish and unpatriotic.

He believed that when the President called for troops, if only one State Executive with brain and nerve had done its duty under the Constitution, the war would have been stopped before now—With 100,000 men under Lee threatening Washington, seceder Stanton nor Lincoln would have had courage enough to turn and face the fire they would have felt in the rear. It is the duty of the people now to refuse to give another man or another dollar for the purpose of carrying on the war. A resolution made by the speaker to Mr. Vallandigham, was received with the most boisterous applause.

Ex-Governor Price, of New Jersey, followed Mr. Wood. He endorsed all the most ultra demonstrations of Copper head doctrine enunciated by his New York exemplar. He believed the only salvation of the country lay in the restoration to power of the Democracy, and he was not very scrupulous as to the means by which the Democracy secured the necessary lease of power.

Other speeches were made by C. Chauncey Burr, Judge Van Leom and others, and a letter from Hon. J. P. Singleton, of Illinois, was read.

From the Macon Telegraph.
An Appeal from Hon. B. H. Hill.
NOW IS YOUR TIME

More than half the men—officers and privates—on Gen. Bragg's muster rolls, are absent from duty. They are wearing the uniform and receiving the pay, but are spending their time on railroads, at hotels, at the houses of unsuspecting kindness in the country, and taking pleasure walks and rides with thoughtless women.

This is the only reason why the battle of Chattanooga was lost. Everywhere I find officers flitting about through the country. If they had been at their posts Gen. Bragg could have been before Nashville this day.

"Tell the ladies to drive them to the army," said the faithful and noble Longstreet to me a few days ago. "They get up false leaves of absence," he added, "and the people, especially the woman must drive them back. Not one fourth of them have an excuse, but indisposition to duty, and of all the army, those who are absent are least entitled to the kindness of the people and the notice of the ladies."

These are pointed and truthful words of a great General who is always at his post. These men can now redeem themselves. This is the most favorable hour in the progress of this struggle to bring the war to a close.

Let every man at once repair to the army. When the muster rolls are calling, let every man not actually disabled answer, "I'm here." If they will but do this, Grant's army can be destroyed.

He cannot live in the interior of Georgia. Don't criticize General Bragg. Stay where he stays, and be as earnest in the discharge of your duties, and no one will have cause to complain, but all abundant cause to rejoice.

Let the Press, the people, the old men and the ladies, ply the absentees, and make them feel what is true—that absence is per se disruptive. Let nothing but absolute sickness excuse. No man can serve two masters; "and no man belonging to the army can discharge his duty in any other position."

This was General Longstreet's emphatic expression.

I do believe if all the absentees will at once return to the army, General Bragg will be able to capture or destroy Grant's army; and when this is done the war cannot last for Lincoln's power will be broken.

But if the absentees remain away—General Bragg with only forty per cent of his army present and sixty per cent absent—cannot prevent Grant from getting a permanent foot-hold in Georgia, and no man can measure the sacrifices that must accrue.

Gen. Lee's army is weakened almost as much from the same cause. If he shall lose a battle it will be only because officers and privates are railroad passengers, hotel guests and lady gallants instead of being soldiers.

Extreme men now govern the United States. They mean our subjugation and ruin. We must fight as long as those men are in power. When the people of the United States shall drive these men from power and repudiate their extreme measures and cease to invade and rob us, there will be an honorable door open for discussion. But never before. Until that door shall be opened by our enemies let our people count no disaster as intolerable, and regard every interest as protected only by a vigorous prosecution of the war. Let every man of the army be in camp, and let every man not of the army produce something to sustain those in camp.

To fight the extreme men and keep our ears open to the reasonable and just men of the United States, is the only road to peace and honor.

In the mean time we have no cause to be discouraged. If Grant shall follow Bragg in to the interior and the absentees will return promptly to duty, we can convert an apparent disaster into the greatest victory of the war. The charm of the extreme men in the United States will then be broken, and the door I speak of will be opened.

From the Montgomery Advertiser.
Special Dispatch.

DALTON, Dec. 10.

There is nothing reliable from Gen. Longstreet since the fight on Sunday, 29th ult. That day our loss was 100 killed and 500 wounded. The reinforcements by Ransom reported by McLaws courier had arrived the Friday previous to the battle. There is no question that Gen. Longstreet has retreated to Virginia.

The official report of our loss at Chattanooga is 300 killed and 1700 wounded, and 3000 missing—one thousand of whom will probably come up. Our actual loss is about four thousand.

DALTON, Dec. 11.

The enemy have fallen back from Chickamauga to Chattanooga, leaving a picket force on Missionary Ridge. Two corps have crossed to Bridgeport. The track from Whitesides to Shell Mound has been torn up, also the railroad abandoned, which is only used as a wagon road. Three small boats are running the river to Chattanooga. From these indications, it is apparently the intention of the enemy to go into winter quarters; supposed with a view of sending 30,000 men to reinforce Meade, whom it is thought Grant may supersede.

Direct information from Longstreet, states that he was at Bean's Station, 50 miles from Knoxville, on the 8th.

It is anticipated that Gen. Hardee will retain command of the Army of Tennessee. This would meet the unanimous approbation of both the men and officers of this war.

$100 REWARD.

Will be paid for the delivery of my mare to Edgar Thompson, near Calhoun, Ga. or $50.00 for any information so that I can get her; such information can be given to Edgar Thompson, or to Col. Searcy, 45th Tenn. Reg. near Chattanooga. Said mare is of dark bay color, 16 hands high, 8 years old last Spring, heavy with foal, thick winded, so much so that she blows when rode fast; she has no white marks except probably 2 saddle spots. When last seen, she was in the hands of a soldier about 22 years old, 5 feet 5 inches high; he has dark hair and dark thin whiskers.

Change of Terms.

From first day of January next. In consequence of the continually increasing scarcity and high price of paper, and other articles, we are compelled reluctantly to increase our terms of subscription and advertising, to two dollars for six months, and two dollars per square for advertising, one dollar for each continuation.

Ours, we believe, was the last paper out of the cities, to reduce to a half sheet, and we have held out at the old rates, longer than any paper in the State that we know of. This being the case, we hope none will complain; more especially as it is a free thing to take a paper or let it alone.

From and after the first day of January next, 1864, we will not take subscribers for a longer period than six months, and at two dollars for that time, incorably in advance.

We deem it unnecessary to offer any apology, or give any other reason for this change, than to remind the reader that at the increased rates, six months subscription can be paid with two pounds of pork, and perhaps less than one peck of wheat.

We give this early notice, that all interested may be prepared for the change, and comply punctually with the terms, if they wish their papers continued.

Existing contracts, where persons have paid for any length of time in advance, will be faithfully complied with; and all old subscriptions will be settled at the old rates, up to first of January, 1864.

Blankets Wanted.

I will give in exchange twelve yards of good unbleached shirting for a good heavy blanket or woollen coverlid, or a like proportion of the same material for articles of inferior value or carpeting, and $1.50 per pair, for either cotton or woollen socks.

The articles may be deposited with W. F. Bush, Jacksonville.

M. C. CALHOUN, Agent for A. Q. M. Schmitz.

Notice to Boat Agents.

I have procured 15,000 bushels of Corn for the indigent soldiers' families—and in order to distribute it equitably, it is necessary that the agents of each boat be taken. The boat agents are therefore requested to visit each soldier's family, and ascertain the amount of corn that will be necessary for each family for 12 months; and report to me as early as possible, as many of the families are now without bread, and hence the necessity of prompt action. I have also on hand 35 sacks of Salt for said families—the boat agents will please come and receive it.

A. WOODS, Judge of Probate.

From the Montgomery Advertiser.

The End of the War Predicted.

The Richmond Dispatch gives an account of a prophet giving out of an old man in the Valley of Virginia, which is said to have nearly all come true, so far.

When our army lay at Harper's Ferry in the beginning of the war, and when every body expected a fight in that quarter, this old seer said no; the fight would come off at Manassas. Subsequently he pictured the Valley overrun and laid waste, and the bloody scenes of the Chickahominy passed in panoramic vision before his mind, twelve months before those events took place.

He also predicted the transactions which afterwards occurred on the Rappahannock, our successes at Fredericksburg, and Chancellorsville, but attended with the loss of a great commander, without naming Jackson. The second invasion of Northern soil was also clearly foreseen and vividly pictured with its results.

With reference to what has since transpired in Mexico, our prophet predicted the following early in the summer of 1861:

"There was to be a tripartite alliance of three European Governments, whose object was to be the redemption of Mexico from anarchy.

"Two of these Governments were soon to withdraw from this alliance, but the third, and the greatest of the three, would prosecute the objects for which the alliance was formed to a successful issue.—Then a European prince was to be placed upon the throne, and the world would witness the inauguration of a monarchy on this continent, and no arm be raised to oppose it."

The following is the vaticination of this Virginia seer as to the future, which we hope will be realized to the fullest extent. And we may add that we see no reason to doubt the truth of the prediction. If his "visions" in the past have been, but the foreshadowing of coming events, why may not his future prediction come true?

"In the spring of 1864 our troops, victorious on the soil of Virginia, were again to turn their faces Northward and march into the country of the enemy. This third invasion is to be successful, and a treaty of peace, granting all for which we have contended, except the State of Maryland, will be dictated on enemy's own territory. In this last invasion the people of the North are to be much more kindly disposed toward our troops than ever before, and opposition to the future prosecution of the war so violent as to compel the Abolition authorities to grant our demands."

The Latest News.

Both houses of Congress have passed the bill abolishing the law allowing substitutes in the army.

Congress has also a bill before it to decrease the number of exemptions, also to institute a rigid investigation of the alleged stupendous frauds in the quartermaster and Commissary department.

Congress has also before it numerous plans to remedy existing evils of redundant currency and restore the credit of the Government by taxation & funding. Doubtless some stringent measures will be adopted, and those who have a surplus of Confederate money will find a abundant use for it in paying debts and taxes, in which case there will be general tumble down in prices, and numerous bankrupt speculators.

One of the most powerful of Yankee iron clads, the "Weehauken" was wrecked on the southern coast in the recent gale and 20 lives lost.

Owing to the numerous guerrilla attacks on steamers, Aft Gen. Thomas has issued orders to furnish all boats in Government employ plying on the Mississippi river with arms and ammunition for self protection.

The Charleston Mercury says of Lincoln's Proclamation, appended to his late message.

"After re-affirming the universal abolition of slavery, without compensation, in the broadest manner, ABRAHAM LINCOLN offers a "pardon" to all persons in the Confederacy, under the rank of Colonel, and who have not held any civil office—executive, judicial, legislative or diplomatic—in the Confederate States, who will give themselves up, and swear oaths of allegiance to the United States, which contain an obligation to accept the proclamation emancipating the slaves. When one tenth of the population of any State has sworn this oath, the said tenth shall constitute a State Government, and send members to Congress at Washington. On condition of such submission, the creatures who make it shall be permitted to crawl on the face of the earth and possess property, with the exception of slaves. These are to be enrolled in the army of the United States and quartered over the conquered States, where negro soldiers will be billeted in every house, and negro Provost Marshals lord it in every village.

Negro Rule in Huntsville.—There are said to be several negro regiments in the vicinity of Huntsville, Ala., and that the Abolitionists are recruiting negroes in the city, making inflammatory abolition speeches, etc. Jere Clemens, formerly of the U. S. Senate, was recently knocked down on the streets by a negro.

LT. Gus Mays, of Morgan's staff, who escaped with Gen. Morgan, arrived in Russell county, Va., en route for Richmond. He left Morgan in Cincinnati, and is satisfied he is safe within our lines.

A couple of refugees from Chattanooga, gives the Rebel the following racy items among some others. "The Unionist were, as a general thing treated as badly as the Southern people Bill Crutchfield, who was ordered out of Chattanooga by Gen. Bragg, and who swam the river and joined the Yankees and remained with Crittenden's command opposite Chattanooga during the shelling of the place, and who was quite officious in his efforts in their favor, was stripped of everything. It is stated that he went in a great rage to Gen. Rosecrans, after the destruction of his property and demanded a pass to come South, saying that he would not remain with men who had destroyed everything he possessed, and desired to come South, knowing that he would be hung, and wanted the matter quickly over; We believe the pass was refused."

In his message to the Legislature of Ky. Gov. Bramlette says the defenses of the State are in a better condition than at any time previous, and that it is conceded that slavery is not essential to the State or Nation, but that the Union is.

The Yankees continue to throw a few shells into Charleston—occasionally, but our batteries somehow seem to have the power of silencing them very soon. No damage done as yet, and no lives lost.

A correspondent of one of the Yankee papers now admits the capture of Charleston; impossible.

There were in Great Britain, in 1863, seven hundred and thirty-eight colliery accidents, involving the loss of 3,133 lives.

Gen. Joseph E. Johnston has been appointed to the command of the army of Tennessee.

Sherman's corps has fallen back from Knoxville towards Chattanooga, and Gen. Grant has recently sent 30,000 men towards Nashville. What these movements indicate, no one seems able to conjecture.

Shooting of deserters is becoming very common of late, in the Confederate army.

Telegraphic dates as late as the 21st say that Longstreet, having been reinforced, is again moving back on Knoxville.

See notice of Capt. McClellan, which affords an excellent opportunity for all absent without leave to return to the army free of expense or penalty.

OBITUARY.

Departed this life, at his residence near Abbeville, Ala. on Friday the 9th day of Oct. 1863, CALVIN H. KERR.

He was born in the State of Tennessee, December 29th, 1811, and emigrated to this State in 1837. He was a man of fine intellect, a "gentleman and a scholar," and universally beloved by all who knew him, for his fair dealing, his unobtrusive manners and gentlemanly deportment.

On down almost in the prime of life, his loss will not only be severely felt by his wife, but by his neighbors, his numerous warm sympathizing friends. His death was caused by an ulcer, or cancer, from which he endured much painful suffering with surprising cheerfulness.

He had two sons in the army about whom he seemed much concerned; the eldest he was permitted to see, but the younger was in the hands of the enemy, where he still remains.

At the time of Mr. Kerr's death, the writer had just returned from Gen. Lee's army, and the father's last words were of his boy—"where is Buddy?" We trust that "Buddy" and the remainder of the family will finally be permitted to meet their father where there is no more suffering, no more cruel wars to separate parents and children, husbands and wives. The subject of this notice gave abundant evidence before his death that he was prepared to die, that "his sins were all forgiven," that like a host of others who had died the christian's death and gone before, he would thus receive the approval of the glorious Judge.

"Ye blessed of my father, come, be just. Enter the joy eternal of your Lord: Receive your crown, and asid sit with me, At God's right hand, in glory evermore."

W. H. B.

Died on the 8th inst. ROBERT McALPIN, eldest child of Rev. William and Mrs. Sarah A. Hall, of Oxford, Ala.

Leaves have their time to fall, And flowers to wither at the north wind's breath; And stars to set—but not—

Thou hast all seasons for thy own—oh death!"

Died, in Jacksonville, on Saturday morning, 19th inst. of 1863, a little J. C. FORTNEY, the only surviving son of Col. W. H. and Mary B. Fortney, aged four years and nine months.

Again has the heartache of this happy family been made desolate by the hand of death. In the winter of the year, but in the earliest springtime of life, another loved one has been snatched from the warm embraces of parental love, and consigned to the cold, damp vault of the grave.

During boy's bright, promising and amiable in all the ways, the joy of the father, the idol of his fond mother's love, and the much loved pet of friends, we can but weep in grief—not as for a lost one, but as for a friend. Thou hast lost Earth, but thou hast gained Heaven!

At any time and under any circumstances, death is an unwelcome visitor; but when the family circle is broken—the father, far from home, in the hands of the enemy—the mother, left alone to see her little loved ones fade and die; then indeed, the scene becomes heart-rending! Human words can give no comfort. Nothing but the assisting grace of "Him who doeth all things well" can bring consolation. May the father in his far-off prison home, remember that "the Lord giveth, and the Lord taketh away," and may he be consoled to see in heart-felt resignation, "blessed be the name of the Lord!"

And, Mother, think while sweet tears are shed, How blessed are the early dead!"
